

In the God protected city of Des Plaines, under the spiritual leadership of His Grace Bishop Peter, Administrator of the diocese of Chicago and Mid-America, the triennial diocesan assembly convened from October 14 to October 17 2015.

The assembly resolves

- We recognize that liturgical chant is an essential element of our church life. We must foster an educational environment that is conducive to involve especially our young people in the rich musical heritage of our faith.
- Furthermore that all parishes of the diocese must strive to fulfill their spiritual and financial obligation to the diocese. In doing so the diocese will be enabled to support and advance its various missions.
- A unified English translation is paramount. It should be equally accurate and musical. We stress the importance that this task be undertaken urgently so that our liturgical worship may be “with one mind and one mouth glorify God” (Romans 15:6)
- In addition we must actively support efforts to cultivate our youth through conferences, summer camps, and church school.
- Clergy that are able to devote their full time to their pastoral duties, not distracted by the financial necessity to engage in secular employment, will facilitate the above resolutions in a more effective manner.
- Acknowledging that the methods of communication have drastically changed in the recent past, we encourage every parish to develop their internet presence, reach a broader audience, and so provide a positive and accessible image of Orthodox Christianity in the newly connected world.

The assembly recognizes

- The visit of His Eminence Phillip, Metropolitan of Poltava and Mirgorod. The metropolitan’s living witness to the life and struggle of the Church in Ukraine was both informative and edifying. His words should encourage us all to support our brethren by our prayers and material offerings. We remind the clergy of the diocesan official communication from June 2014, which remains in effect and prescribes additional petitions and prayers for Ukraine.
- The informational presentation of Archpriest Sergei Kislev regarding parochial schools in Russia. We were encouraged to learn about the high value that is placed upon both the academic and spiritual education of children. Such programs are truly worthy of imitation.
- The recovery of His Eminence Archbishop Alypy after his recent stay at the hospital. We ask for your continued prayers for his well being.
- The growth of the diocese in the last three years. One church consecration and blessings of two newly erected temples, two bishops, 44 priests, and 15 deacons with 44 churches and missions are a testaments to this growth.
- The success of the Pastoral Theological School of the diocese, and our earnest desire is that more members of our diocese, clergy and laymen and women alike, will make use of it.

We pray that in 2018, when, God willing, our assembly will once again convene, we will joyfully acknowledge the successful implementation of these resolutions.
